TONIGHT
VITAL Town Meeting -

ROCHESTER & MATTAPOISETT TO VOTE ON MIDDLE SCHOOL

Mattapoisett voters will attend a special Town Meeting Wednesday, June 11th, to determine whether the town is ready to regionalize further to include the 5th and 6th grades and whether it is ready to join in the building of a Middle School together with the other towns of the Regional District. This is no small decision since it involves a $4,500,000.00 estimated cost for the building. Mattapoisett, which so recently built the Old Hammondtown School building, would assume the additional burden which, based on present percentages of Mattapoisett's share in the capital costs of the region, is approximately one half. Mattapoisett, if it chooses to join the building of the Middle School, can expect to be responsible for that percentage after the first two years.

Voters are urged to turn out tonight, Wednesday, June 11th, at 8 P.M., at Bristol auditorium at Old Rochester Regional High School so as to have the greatest possible number of voters take part in this very important decision.

Superintendent of Schools, Dr. Joseph Kunces has suggested that the vote taken in the Mattapoisett Town Meeting be by show of hands. He made this suggestion in a letter to Selectmen. Mattapoisett Selectmen favor a secret ballot as has been the procedure in other decisions of this kind. The secret vote permits people to vote as they wish without revealing it to their neighbors.

Rochester will meet at Memorial School on Wednesday, June 11th, at 8:00 P.M. on this same Middle School question. Marion will meet one week from now on June 18th at 7:30 P.M. at Tabor's Hoyt Hall.

Under sunny skies with a light southwest wind, the Mattapoisett Yacht Club held the first race in its June series on Saturday, June 7th.

A five-boat fleet of Corinthians answered the starting gun, with George Fisher, in Cloud Nine, emerging the victor.

Tim Reilly, at the helm of Swamp Fox, was the winner in the unofficial match race for Beetle Cats.

The Corinthians sailed a course from the race committee boat anchored at mid-harbor opposite Ned's Point to Barstow Rock red nun 6 to Town Anchorage red nun 8 and finish at the committee boat.

Billy Mee, in Irish Eyes, making a near perfect starboard tack start, was in the lead until heading into the final leg of the course. Then George Fisher's Cloud Nine forged ahead to finish first, followed by D. Peterson's Torquil and J. Clark in Instead who came in third.

The previously scheduled race for Beetle Cats was not held, as only two boats reported to the starting line. However, these two sailed an unofficial match race, using the same course as the Corinthians. It was a close contest with the lead shifting hands several times.

Brian Roderick, in Pussy Cat, led at the start of the race, but Tim Reilly, skippering Swamp Fox, overtook him on the first leg to lead rounding the first marker. Midway of the second leg, Roderick's Pussy Cat caught up with Swamp Fox, and then followed a buffing match. Finally, Brian Roderick jibed from a starboard tack to a port tack, which maneuver put him out

Mattapoisett Grange

Mattapoisett Grange held its bi-monthly meeting last Thursday night. Honored guests were Mrs. Edna Handford, a member of the State Home and Community Service Committee; Robert Ouellette, master of Sippican Pomona; and Herbert LaFleur, master of Acushnet Grange.

The charter was draped for Clifford Atkinson, followed by the annual Memorial Service for Jennie Toolis, Ellen Heuberger, Mabel Denham and Clifford Atkinson, who have passed away during the Grange year. The service was conducted by Earle Wilson serving as chaplain, who recited "Crossing the Bar" as part of the ceremony. He was assisted by the secretary, Evelyn Linhares, who read the names of the deceased as the Worthy Flora, Mary Costa, placed the carnations on the altar. Sacred music was by Walter Caswell.

The agricultural report was given by Dale Fearing. Relief work for the month of May was given by Mrs. Kellish.

Ruby Barber, co-chairman of the recent supper held by the Grange, gave a report on its success. The worthy master thanked all who helped.

The committee appointed to draw up the Resolutions on the death of Clifford Atkinson is comprised of Margarite Vaughan, Albert Pemberton and Edith Johansen.

It was voted to support Earle Wilson's request that the members of Mattapoisett Grange write to Representative Hastings

EVERYTHING'S COMIN' UP ROSES

A rose by any other name would still have to defend itself to stay alive. For the flower, regarded by many as the most frequently attacked by insects and disease, is engaged in a constant battle for survival.

Its buds are attacked by aphids, chafers, May beetles, Japanese beetles, leaf hoopers, leaf rollers and lacebugs. Thrips, mites, leaf miners, cankerworms, clover mites, mealybugs and webworms suck juices from the leaves. The stalks and stems are bugged by bagworms, tent caterpillars, scale and canker.

Moreover, the entire plant is subject to diseases including black spot, botrytis, flower blight, fungus, leaf spot, mildew and rust. And even the roots are chewed by grubs of coddling moth, armyworm, sod webworm and beetles.

But there are ways in which roses won't become bushed protecting themselves. One means is through the use of an effective rose spray or dust. A particularly successful method employs an aerosol such as Antrol Triple Action Rose and Flower Spray. Also available as a dust, this substance attacks the chewing and sucking insects and the mites and stops the spread of disease.

Other effective products are 72% Chlordane, used in the soil around plants to stem insects and grubs, and 50% Malathion in liquid form, which provides a broad spectrum insect and mite kill. Malathion should be used in a hose-end sprayer by those who have too many roses to make use of an aerosol practical.

The gardener should water deeply and slowly and then let the first few inches of the surface dry before watering again. Deep watering, say experts, encourages deep rooting. Water the roots, not the flower or foliage.

Another important product is Antrol 10-10-10 liquid fertilizer, which fosters fast action in getting into the soil and in feeding roses through their leaves.

To get the full story of this remarkable flower, send a self-addressed stamped envelope for an eight-page, free, guide to the care and feeding of roses. The complete guide, entitled "New Ways to Use Roses and New Roses to Use," gives tips on planting, cultivating and protection. Write to Antrol, Box 2255, Philadelphia, Penn. 19103.

CAKE WITH PARTY GLAMOUR

Every woman needs a little file labeled "dazzling desserts." They're the kind you make for special occasions, like this extraordinary cake, and serve with style. Capped with snowy meringue, it has two surprises underneath—poppy seed in the cake, and a delicate lemon filling.

Lemon Meringue Poppy Seed Cake

1 package Swans Down Lemon Flake Cake Mix
3 tablespoons poppy seeds
Rich Lemon Filling
Meringue Topping

Prepare cake mix as directed on package, adding poppy seeds before beating. Bake in a 13 x 9-inch pan which has been greased and floured or lined on bottom with wax paper. Cool. Meanwhile, make Rich Lemon Filling. Spread 1/2-inch border of Meringue Topping around edge of cooled cake. Fill center with lemon filling; then top with remaining meringue. Place under broiler until lightly browned. Serve at once. Makes 15 servings.

Rich Lemon Filling. Combine 1 package (3-1/4 oz.) lemon pudding and pie filling, 2/3 cup sugar, and 1/2 cup water in a saucepan. Add 4 slightly beaten egg yolks; blend well. Add 2 cups water. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil. Remove from heat; cool. Makes about 2-3/4 cups.

Meringue Topping. Beat 4 egg whites with 1/8 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar until foamy throughout. Add 1/3 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons at a time, beating thoroughly after each addition. Continue beating until mixture will form stiff shiny peaks.

PETER J. ANDREWS

Bringing close to five years' experience as a Postal Clerk in the Mattapoisett Post Office, Peter assumed the duties of Rural Mail Carrier, Route #2, East end of town on Saturday, May 17th, 1969.

Through his two familiarization rides on the route, Peter discovered three deficiencies - dilapidated mail boxes, unmarked mail boxes and cars parked on route to boxes - which he thinks if corrected would assist him greatly in performing his duty and giving his patrons the service they rightfully deserve.

Peter wants all on his route to feel free to contact him by phone or personally at the Post Office, 2583, or at home, 3560,

Regional High School. They are being sponsored by the Mattapoisett Woman's Club. More than 250 other representatives will come from all parts of the State and will participate in a week's study of local and state government. These girls are selected on the basis of potential leadership qualities.

"At Girls State the girls will establish and operate a miniature state government of their own," explained Mrs. Edward W. Wellman, director of Girls State. "They will form two political parties, hold conventions, nominate candidates for office, conduct campaigns and hold an election. Officers elected will be installed, and the executive, legislative and judicial functions of state government carried out.

"Talks by high state officials will be part of the Girls State program. The girls will hear about the duties and responsibilities of the various branches of government from men and women actually engaged in government work. Both from practice and study of state government, the girls will return home with a much better understanding of how American democracy functions."

THE LONG COOL SUMMER

The cut-out dress is in!

McCall's Pattern #9785 is the newest take-off on the "bare look". The breezy culotte-dress; Pattern #9783, goes from sun-up to sundown with nonstop versatility.

Summertime is a breeze-in dresses cut out for the carefree life. The "bare look" is the latest and greatest way to keep your cool. Necklines dip daringly lower, backlines also take the plunge, and the bare midriff is suddenly the center of attention. Newest takeoff on this idea: the dress with cut-out sides.

Are legs stepping out of the fashion limelight? Hardly! The pants look goes everywhere —and you're nowhere without at least one pant-dress to help you breeze through a busy summer.

Since the new styles have a bare minimum of frills, they're particularly easy to sew.

For the girl who wants to be a cut above the crowd, McCall's Patterns has just the ticket: #9785 for misses and juniors. The simple tank-top skimmer, cut out at the sides, makes quite a point of a slim waist and sleek, suntanned midriff.

Make it in regular or mini lengths; sew the same design in different fabrics to wear at the beach or in the city, at high noon or after dark. The world will see a new side to your fashion personality!

Equally versatile is the dashing culotte dress in Misses Pattern #9783. From deeply V'd neck to flaring split-level skirt, the effect is one of stripped-down elegance. No side-issues here, unless you add the new-minted touch of a gilt link belt.

This pant-dress can be made in three lenghths to fit the life you lead. A mini-version is ideal for sunning; presto, change-o, and the same pattern produces an ankle-sweeping hostess costume! The street-length version has nonstop versatility for daytime and dates. Give it the "flower power" of the newest prints. Or endow it with the classic appeal of white, twice as refreshing with a double row of lace banding at the hem.

The popular chicken salad and traditional strawberry shortcake will be served with relishes, rolls and potato chips.

World Fellowship contributions enable the YWCA of the U.S.A. to share in the World YWCA program of Mutual Service to strengthen association work in from 30-40 countries a year. Assistance provided includes advisory staff, full time volunteer service, grants and leadership training. This program year one or more of these services are being received in 11 countries of Africa, 11 countries of Asia, 2 in Europe, 10 in Latin America, 6 in the Middle East, 1 in the Caribbean and 1 in the South Pacific.

All YWCAs are part of a national movement, and in turn all members have the joyful experience of belonging to a global family whose members give to each other in a heart-warming, world-circling program of mutual service.

Mitchell R. Pykosz, a student at Bristol County Agricultural High School, and a YWCA Beautification leader, will entertain after the meal, with his guitar and sing among other numbers, original compositions.

Miss Gladys Blackmer, committee member in charge of the World Fellowship Showcase, announces that there are many very unusual imported gift items available now for bon boyage and wedding gifts. These include candlesticks, book ends, and servers from Israel. Pottery, novelties and jewelry are on display. Dolls from Sholapur doll center, near Bombay, desirous for collections, are for sale.

The Inter-Club Council meeting announced last week for June 3rd has been postponed to June 16th. "What Makes a YWCA" will be the topic of discussion. The training session and workshop is for elected officers of both teen and adult clubs. Miss Jean Campbell, executive director, and others assisting, will introduce the subjects to be considered that relate to the "Y" as a whole, to other clubs, and to the community.

Mrs. Beatrice Macomber, a member of the YWCA Travel Club, will prepare a New England clam boil for the Exotic Food Club members' enjoyment June 18th. Members are requested to come early to assist and to learn how to prepare the different foods for the boil. Nothing will be omitted from the traditional clam boil, and even corn on the cob and watermelon for dessert will be included. If the weather is fine, the meal will be served on the terrace.

There will be no scheduled speakers for the Weekly Luncheon Socials for a few weeks, but there will be recordings of music played during the lunch hour and the patio is available for sun and for chatting. Sandwiches and coffee will be available.

Many YWCA members will be interested to know that Mrs. Boyd Eatmon, the former Alberta Knox, visited New Bedford last week. At present, Mrs. Eatmon is president of the Burlington County (New Jersey) YWCA. After teaching in New Bedford for 10 years, Mrs. Eatmon attended the University of Pennsylvania and taught in New Jersey until her retirement a few years ago.

& Not a Drop to Drink

"Into each life some rain must fall," Henry Wadsworth Longfellow wrote more than a century ago.

Today the question is, will that rain be sufficient to meet the nation's fast-growing fresh water needs.

And all signs indicate that the answer is, not for too much longer. By 1970, according to recent U. S. Department of Commerce estimates, America will be tapping her fresh water reserves to the tune of more than 400 billion gallons per day. That's ten times the usage at the turn of the century and, with demand increasing rapidly, experts agree that we'll soon have to turn to processed sea water to keep from going thirsty.

Already many communities are noticing a marked difference in the taste of drinking water, coffee, tea, soup and other water-based foods. This is a result of a serious water pollution problem compounded by the necessity for tapping secondary sources which don't measure up to previous standards with regard to taste, odor and coloring. Extensive chemical treatment makes the water safe, if no more pleasing to the palate, nose and eye.

Our Dividends Are Something To Cheer About.

In New York City, for example, the waters of the muddy Hudson River were recently tied into the municipal system despite the fact that it has been said: "If you fall into the Hudson, you don't drown - you decay".

Perhaps the only consolation to be found is, things have been worse. History reports that a traveler passing through New York City in 1748 wrote friends that the water was so bad "even the horses balked at drinking it".

The taste of water has produced a variety of responses on the part of the American public. For one, sales of bottled water have shot up steadily over the past several years, with the industry now selling about $65 million worth of water per annum.

Perhaps a more practical temporary pollution solution is the home water filter. While the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration estimates that as much as $29 billion will be needed over the next 5 years to clean up the nation's rivers, lakes and streams, these devices provide the individual with a means of purifying the water when it reaches his home for less than $29.

Units attach directly to the kitchen tap without difficulty and screen out objectionable taste, odor and discoloration. The water that passes through is as fresh as any from a brisk mountain stream.

At the heart of such equipment is an activated charcoal filter, best known for its effective cigarette smoke filtration in leading brands. Interestingly, activated charcoal is also used by thousands of American communities to protect their water supplies as well as in the preparation of most soft drinks, beer, wine and alcoholic beverages.

While activated charcoal's ability to absorb impurities in water has been known for nearly half a century, its full potential in this area was not really recognized until the late stages of World War II. At that time rumors were spreading that the retreating German armies planned to use botulism and other deadly germs to poison the water supplies of European cities they abandoned to the advancing American troops. A chemist named John Hassler was assigned to find a way to safeguard the GI's.

Hassler contended that activated charcoal was the answer. He proved it in a highly dramatic way.

Taking a heaping helping of thoroughly infected garbage which had been allowed to sit for several days, he whipped up the foulest "soup" ever prepared in an Army kitchen. Then he ran the "broth" through a series of activated charcoal filters and calmly drank it while an array of officers looked on in amazement.

When Hassler suffered no ill effects, the Army commissioned the construction of a convoy of special water tank trucks equipped with activated charcoal filters for front line use.

How much is a drink of fresh water worth? It's all in your point of view. The Army paid the price of the trucks. A rich merchant crossing the Sahara Desert is reported to have given a poor camel driver a record $20,000 for a cold gourd of water.

Think about that the next time you use 60 gallons of water during a long, leisurely shower.
